INTRODUCING

THE MONASTERY

'Increasingly jaded with the corporate stifling of creativity and business and financial barriers, Anthony and I decided to take back control and start our own business. Partnering Anthony's extensive creative design skills with my business acumen, the lifestyle concept company AM Editions was formed, originally a fusion of furniture design with interior design. It became clear that furniture design was the more enticing, visually interesting, and more fitting our aims and ethos. Our focus, and our business, therefore underwent a transformation. Our design aesthetic and journey formed the basis of The Monastery – simple, appealing and contemplative pieces created holistically to bring calm, serenity and comfort to interior lifestyles.'

THE MONASTERY

The Monastery is a London-based boutique furniture design studio combining holistic design principles with aesthetic naturality and uncomplicated but aspirational style. Holistic Design Philosophy

Their holistic approach blends innovative design inspiration from places, materials and heritage with attainable lifestyle contentment and spiritual calm. Each piece has a distinctive design development narrative perfectly illustrated by form, function, and aesthetic serenity.

Inspired by the rich architectural and cultural traditions of travel, rich creative ingredients have revealed themselves, in some cases quite unexpectedly, on their design pilgrimage.

Visually appealing finishes and their potential use in new and unexpected ways, exotic yet sustainable but rarely used woods, stone, distinctive finishing and working methods form the foundation of their designs, with the rich social and architectural traditions of diverse cultures lending their collection contemporary international desirability.
